LOGGERITHMS

By "Mike"

Now that the Girlish Rush Season is over, the Co-eds can speak to each other again. That is, some of them.

If you sit in the front pew in Dr. Weir's class you belong to the Cavalry. We have decided to quit playing Horseshoes.

Dr. Weir says the appellation is due to Pony riding propensities in times of Examinations. Call for the Prince of Wales.

CAN'T KEEP THIS ONE IN Departmental Banquet Joke "Quick, Frenchy, your Shirt Front is out."

"Where, Herold, where?" "Out where the Vest begins."

The intramural basketball season is still proceeding amid the heavy cheering of huge audiences. At the Junior-Senior game the crowd was immense. Both of them yelled for the Juniors.

The Gymnasium is the large building south of Jones Hall.

And we used to hear that the Administration building was a place where Football players went when they got tired of the Gymnasium.

History in the Making

Last week-end the Varsity Glee Club took its longest jaunt of the year when they pulled up stakes and plunged into the wilds of Lewis County, singing before the townspeople of Randle and Mossyrock successively and to some extent successfully. There were no casualties, although Paul Soper is rumored to have leaped into the piano when one of the audience reached for his hip pocket. The trip will long be remembered by Fordyce X. Johnson, premier bass-professor of the organization, as a golden page from a somewhat dull existence. Mr. Johnson is said to have been seen carrying the unconscious form of a beautiful woman from a wrecked Ford to the roadside. The actual distance was probably seven or eight feet, but Mr. Johnson declares it was a mile and that he lived a couple of years during the soul-stirring journey. Flushed with enthusiasm after his romantic endeavors, Our Hero also took the joy out of the Evening Poker Tournament, winning 17 straight jackpots. He was only forced out of play when ill-luck chanced upon him, and 4 Kings being the best he could muster, he retired, cursing his luck.

Varsity track men are still at large every night. As to long-distance runners, there is little difference between Fassett and Fawcett.

Having only had opportunity to vote but six times on the question of increased tuition fees, this Department wishes to go on record as favoring any increase that is seen fit. That is to say, if it fits our own personal pocketbook.

Loggerithms Reasons for Increase of Tuition Fees

Bigger and better hats for Faculty. New umbrella for Senator Davis. New Gnash for Dean Henry.

New set of Koveralls for Mr. Swayze.

Why not offer a Master of Arts degree in Yell Leading.

Or is it an Art? You might call it an obsession.

R. O. T. C. Bill Makes Appearance

The protest against compulsory military training had its echo in Congress last week when Representative Welch of Pennsylvania introduced a bill providing that no federal funds be appropriated to civil institutions at which military training is compulsory.

ALL-COLLEGE BANQUET TO SURVIVE

There will be pep and punch and "wim" and "wigor" and everything else possible including you at the All-College to be held in the near future. Let's don't hear you say you can't be there because that is the very reason that it has been postponed.

We've been planning this banquet for ages; got the jolliest bunch of

CANDIDATES SPEAK AT COLLEGE

HUSTON AND WALTERS SAFETY AND FINANCE CANDIDATES VISIT

Rev. E. J. Huston, well-known as candidate for the Department of Public Safety, addressed a joint meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. Tuesday morning. Preceding Mr. Huston's talk, Dorothy Gilmore, accompanied by Kathryn Hammerly, sang a group of songs which was greatly appreciated.

Franklin Manning then introduced Mr. A. S. Walters, another city candidate. Mr. Walters is a Puget Sound alumnus, and made a brief statement to the members of the two clubs.

Mr. Huston told a little about his life, twenty years of which have been spent in the ministry. He has been very active in law enforcement work. For three years he turned all the evidence over to the officials but when he got no action from them, he worked as a private citizen.

Mr. Huston believes that Tacoma needs a business administration. He says that there is a great deal of graft combined with business. He said: "I do not believe that Tacoma will grow industrially unless that growth is based on the moral issue. We need devotion to law and government. The attack on the prohibition law is an attack on the government."

Mr. Huston finished his talk with a thrilling account of an adventure with some moonshiners near Tacoma.

OBSERVE LIFE SERVICE WEEK

Reagor of First Christian Church to Lead Services

The annual Life Service Week will be observed at Puget Sound beginning Monday, March 1, and extending through Friday. Rev. Paul Reagor will be the leader of devotions.

There will be a chapel period of forty-five minutes every morning during the week. The regular class sessions will be shortened. There will be four evening meetings, and a special church service at the First Christian Church, 6th and Kay, Sunday evening.

Rev. Reagor will be at the college every morning from chapel through the noon hour to confer with students. People are urged to make appointments with Mr. Reagor to discuss any questions that have been bothering them. The evening meetings are not going to be "sermon" meetings, but are discussion groups where questions and answers will be in order. These groups are scheduled to meet from seven to eight o'clock, not to interfere with studies.

Rev. Reagor is sacrificing a great deal to help the college, and is giving a lot of time to make this week a success and a value to the students.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Ina Hagedorn, Prof. Regester, Franklin Manning, Henry Ernst and Crawford Turnbull.

GIRLS' VOLLEY BALL STARTS SEASON

Girls' Volley Ball practice is in full swing in the gymnasium every Wednesday and Friday afternoons. Many girls have been turning out for this sport and great interest is being shown in the practices. Volley Ball requires a greater amount of team work than most sports and the girls are working hard to play a good smooth game. There are many girls who have played the game before and the inexperienced are learning very fast. This sport requires a large number of players, so "girls, turn out."

ALL-COLLEGE BANQUET TO SURVIVE

speakers ever, and eats,—say, have you ever been to the Tacoma Hotel? And last, but not least, you're to come just as you are for—here's a secret—even the speakers aren't going to wear dress suits.

Now there's nothing to keep you from coming for Mr. Chuinard says he'll see to it that there is no other college affair on that evening.

All aboard; Let's go!

CANADIANS PREPARE FOR TRACK

That the College of Puget Sound track team is in for a hard battle on March 20 when it tangles with U. B. C. is made evident by advance reports from Vancouver. The northern team is pointing for the meet, as is shown by their organ, "The Ubyssy" which says, "The meet with the Tacoma Loggers is a real addition to the program . . . and a real contest should come off."

The Canadian school has some real speedsters who check off about 10 seconds in the hundred yards and 4.41 for the mile.

Mottley, their half-miler, was clocked over that route at 2:03 last year. When it comes to broad jumping, they have two men who leap close to 22 feet. These records are better than have been shown by any of the Logger cinder artists. However our squad hopes to make a good showing.

Tall Addison Shaw has some fine marks to his credit in the javelin and discus throw. The lanky lad has excelled 160 feet in the former and his discus throw of 121 feet is considered exceptionally good.

Coach Seward's track tryouts last week brought several new men, but did not reveal any unusual talent. Harold Wade revealed quite a bit of ability in the pole vault when he went close to ten feet, the first night of the season.

Ohne Hannus, star of the football and basketball seasons, is expected to be one of the mainstays of the cinder squad. Mark White, veteran from last year, is expected to furnish competition for the other sprinters aside from showing well in his own race, the 440.

Ralph Brown has been putting the shot with quite a bit of success. Gordon Smallwood was a sprint star at Stellacoom High, and with training should develop into college material. Douglas Hendel, formerly of the U. of W., is a star half-miler and should turn in good time this year.

In the mile run, Fassett and Manning are turning out but neither is fast and they cannot be expected to do much this year. Van Patter is attempting track for the first time and although making rapid progress, he will need more experience before he becomes a menace to the other schools.

In Red Tatum the Loggers have a stellar high jumper who has equalled 5 feet 11 inches. Fred Carruthers, Sam Pugh, Lloyd Brown and Ohne Hannus will be the props of the hurdle events.

In all, the College of Puget Sound has the material for a good cinder team. She has the coaches, as Seward and Slater are both experienced. The only problem that remains is the matter of training. Coach Seward urges faithful daily practice, as that is the only way a successful aggregation can be developed.

Stadium Cinches Cage Tourney

TIGERS CAPTURE FOURTH GAME FOR TITLE

By winning all but the first game in the basketball series this year, Stadium High School defeated Lincoln High and won the varsity basketball championship of the city for this year. Stadium had practically all of its last year's team back again, and their experience told heavily against the less experienced Lincoln men.

After losing two games in a row, the Lincoln midgets came back and took two games from the North End paperweights, leaving the standing tie at this time, with each team having won two. The next game, which will be played soon, will decide the championship.

FRATERNITY RUSH RULES

Fraternity rush rules as recently drawn up by the inter-fraternity council are as follows:

The season starts March 1 and lasts for two weeks, ending 12 p. m., March 13.

Invitations to rush affairs may be issued Friday, February 26, after 8 a. m.

Bids to membership are to be issued Monday, March 15 at 12:05 p. m.

Pledging is to start 24 hours later, Tuesday, March 16 at 12:05 p. m.

Students Forecast City Elections

Straw Vote Taken at Puget Sound Shows Accuracy

Some times the opinion of Puget Sound students appears to represent the opinions of the people of Tacoma, and at other times it does not, as was shown in the straw vote taken last Friday in chapel on the municipal election here. At the college Tennant received 84 per cent of the votes cast for mayor, Harrison was next, then Fawcett, then Mason, and finally Meyer. In the primaries Tuesday Tennant also led, but Fawcett came next, then Harrison, Mason and Meyer. For commissioners Huston led at Puget Sound with 47 per cent of the votes. Next came Walters, then Dymont, Christofferson, Conly, Murray, Turner, Smith, Weller, Conner, Ellis, Larson, Kerr, Kremer, Newman and Vergowe. In the primaries Dymont led, with Huston a close second. Next came Walters, Christofferson, Kremer, Murray, Weller, Smith, Conly, Turner, Newman, Larson, Ellis, Kerr, Conner and Vergowe.

DEBATE WITH COLORADO ON CHILD LABOR

Will Be Held During Spring Vacation

Plans are now definitely under way for a debate with Colorado College. Colorado is sending a team on a tour through the Northwest in April and they will arrive in Tacoma April 3. Unfortunately this comes during Spring Vacation but since it is a tour trip the debate must be staged at the convenience of the visitors. The national Pi Kappa Delta question of Child Labor will be used.

Puget Sound will be represented by Franklin Manning, Torrey Smith and Allison Wetmore. All of these men have had experience and have shown outstanding abilities in forensics. Manning and Smith are Sophomores and Wetmore is a senior. The team from Colorado College will be composed of two seniors and a sophomore, all of whom are leaders in debate activities on their campus. Such a debate should prove of great interest to an audience and be worth while to all concerned.

ST. LEO'S STAGE BEST PLAY

Local Schools Hold Drama Contest

St. Leo's High School won the drama tournament held recently at the Little Theater, located on the old location of Annie Wright Seminary. Each of the three high schools of the city, Stadium, Lincoln and St. Leo's, put on a one-act play. The play of the last school was selected as the best of the three, and its cast was awarded a cup as a trophy.

IRON MAN STUFF

A University of Redlands track star took part the other day in an original iron man stunt. It was the interclass meet where Bill Garner of that school ran the 440, the 880, the mile and the two mile runs. He won them all. He also ran anchor man on the Senior relay team, by his own efforts almost winning the run.

Students of the University of Idaho will be presented with definite proposals for self-government. As a prelude to the presentation of a definite basis upon which to work, letters have been sent to about 30 institutions in all parts of the country seeking information on student government.

The University of Redlands recently initiated a set of new concrete tennis courts with a tournament against Whittier.

A regrettable error was made in last week's issue of The Trail. In the article on additions to the curriculum a sub-head stated that a Master's Degree in Theology would be given. Instead of Theology a Master's Degree will be given in Religious Education.

REGISTRATION NUMBER IS LARGE

In contradiction to last week's Trail the following figures show that Puget Sound's registration is much larger for the present year than that of last year.

A total of 412 students are now fully registered not including Conservatory students. The freshman class leads the rest of the classes with 156 regular students and 46 Normals. The sophomores have 78 regular students with 38 Normals. The junior class has 54 and the senior class 28.

These numbers with 4 students taking graduate work and 18 taking special work brings the total up to 412. Night school has 91 enrolled, and last year's summer school 123 students.

Wright Resigns as News Bureau Head

ELVERTON STARK CHOSEN MANAGING EDITOR

Preston Wright, recently appointed managing editor of the newly organized Associated Students News Bureau, has found it necessary to resign on account of other work. Elverton Stark, who has been assisting him, has been chosen to fill the position left vacant by Mr. Wright's resignation. Stark, the new managing editor, has had considerable experience in journalistic work during his high school career, and is now on the Puget Sound Trail staff.

The Associated Students News Bureau has lately been established at the College of Puget Sound. Its purpose is to carry on a publicity campaign for the college. This consists largely of circulating news of student and faculty activities as they occur, to city town and school publications, where the news will be of greatest interest.

The News Bureau is a comparatively new means of advertising a college, and is a big step forward. Some news material has already been sent out in regard to football, basketball, and other sports and activities of the college. Now that several new courses have been added to the curriculum for next year it is especially necessary to advertise the college well, since there is more to offer the students, and many who in former years would have gone to other schools will probably attend Puget Sound.

Students Oppose Increase in Fees

Students seem to be thrifty and cautious if returns from the vote of Wednesday morning are to be used as indicators.

When given an opportunity to recommend the increase of tuition fees, incomplete returns showed that about two-thirds of the students opposed the raise while one-third favored it.

President Todd desired the opinion of the student body upon the action of the Board of Trustees relative to an increase of fees to meet the expenses of the college.

Graduated Scholarship Method Outlined by John Grier Hibben Head of Princeton University

Editor's Note: The following article reprinted from the Intercollegiate World for January, 1926, contains a number of timely criticisms on the question of scholarship of undergraduates throughout the country.

It seems absurd that a corporation into which a young man goes immediately after he leaves college should be able to exact from him eight to ten hours of diligent, faithful and efficient work each day, and no one think of criticizing it; whereas, many of our young men here at Princeton, or in fact in all other universities, will complain that, if they do every day three hours of work outside of their classroom duties, it is placing too heavy a burden upon them.

If through Sophomore year they have neglected their studies, shown a poor record, which makes it in

BEST ENGLISH AWARD WILL BE A DICTIONARY

DR. YOUNGSON DONOR OF NEW TROPHY

Dr. William Wallace Youngson, pastor of the Rose City Park Methodist church in Portland, Oregon, is beginning, this year, a practice which he expects to continue in the future.

Dr. Youngson is to give a dictionary to that senior student, who, as judged by the faculty, has used the best English during his or her four year college course.

The prize is to be the reference history edition, printed on India paper in full American Russia leather and is the finest dictionary published by the Houghton Mifflin Company.

The book has been ordered through the Taylor Book Company of Seattle and will arrive at the College of Puget Sound on the fifteenth of May, so that it may be seen by everyone before it is awarded.

Dr. Youngson, who delivered the commencement address here, three years ago, is one of the prominent ministers of the Pacific Northwest and is very much interested in education and is particularly interested in Puget Sound. Before taking up his present charge, he was superintendent of the Portland district.

California School Has Hockey Team

TO ENTER AMATEUR LEAGUE

The Southern Branch of the University of California is planning on entering a hockey team into a regular amateur league for the first time in Grizzly history. Last year Southern Branch was represented by its first hockey team and lost three contests to U. S. C., 2-1, 3-2 and 1-0.

At present six squads compose a conference namely, Southern Branch, U. S. C., Occidental, Loyola, Auto Club and the Mack Sennett Studios. The League is strictly an amateur affair but most of the players have had some experience.

Recall Is Up at U. of California

Change in Constitution Called for by More Than 1000 Students

More than 1000 students have signed the petitions for amendment of the recall provisions of the A. S. U. C. constitution. These have been circulated on the campus, and are now in the hands of the A. S. U. C. secretary. The president of the student body must call an election on the proposed amendment within 15 days.

The petition proposes that in the future special recall elections may be called at any time in the year by the presentation to the A. S. U. C. secretary of the petition signed by three per cent of the students. A second proposal to be voted on is that each of the councils represented on the committee be enabled to recall all probability certain that they cannot keep the pace and make the grade of the more exacting studies of Junior year, then these men are not promoted. Some of them must make up a term of lost work; some of them two terms, that is, the whole of Sophomore year; while the record of others may be so poor as to make even this concession impossible and they must leave college finally. With our limited enrollment we must bear in mind that we cannot indiscriminately allow our undergraduates to fall back into lower classes, for the lower classes will be so congested in time that we would have to cut down the number of entering students far below the present mark. Therefore, unless a man's record shows some promise of improvement he cannot be given the privilege. (Continued on page 2, Col. 2)

In Our Realm of Society

FORMER STUDENT WEDS

Students of Puget Sound will be pleased and surprised to hear of the marriage of Maynard B. Stowe to Miss Marian Goldthorpe of Everett on February 22.

The bridegroom attended Puget Sound in 1922-1923 and was a member of the Amphictyony Literary Society. He is now connected with the Puget Sound Railway and Power Co. of Everett. His home will be in that city.

Miss Genevieve Stowe, '28, attended her brother's wedding and spent the week end at her home in Everett.

KAPPA SIGMA THETA

After a strenuous and successful week of rushing, the Kappa Sigma Sorority take great pleasure in announcing the pledging of Elva Belfoy, Vera Blix, Leonora Bloomquist, Lillian Burkland, Gertrude Hess, Dorothy Leatherwood, Florence Mackey, Susie Phelps, Lucile Phillips, Rosalie Robbins, Ruth Scheyer and Doris Wilson.

The pledging ceremony was held at the home of Margaret Scofield on North Ainsworth Avenue. Mildred Forsberg, the president of Sigma Theta, presided during the rituals following which Mrs. Carl G. Helen brought a message from the Sigma Theta alumni.

SIX Following the impressive ceremony, a delicious spread was served by a committee composed of Mar-

LAMBDA SIGMA CHI

The Lambda Sigma Chi Sorority entertained with three rushing parties last week.

On Wednesday afternoon the pledge service was held at the home of Miss Margaret Short. Maude Hague had charge of the collation served after the pledging.

The Delta Alpha Gamma held pledging service, Wednesday, February 24, at the home of Miss Marylou Bechard.

The Sorority is proud to announce the pledging of Miss Eileen Austin, Madonna Hobner, Helen Elder, Helen Jensen, Mary Glenn, Eunice McLean and DeLona Calahan.

After the services a delightful hour was spent by the members with their new pledges and before the afternoon was over the new pledges were pleasantly introduced to the "Delta Alpha Gamma Special."

PUGET SOUND PERSONALITIES

MARGERY DAVISSON

One of the most famous of Tacoma's home products at the College of Puget Sound is Margery Davison. After a desperate struggle in which the reporter used everything except the election returns, Margery consented to divulge the date of her arrival upon this sphere. After shyly confessing that she had voted at the election last Tuesday, she admitted that she was born in Tacoma on August 17, 1904. She graduated from Central grade school of this city, and later from Stadium High School.

In 1922 Margery entered the College of Puget Sound. From then on she has been busy almost every minute with activities in the school. In her freshman year she pledged Philo, was a member of the Women's Glee Club, and played on the women's varsity basketball team. In connection with this last, Margery arrived at school one day with two large and beautiful black eyes. After using all the old excuses such as "Oh, I ran into a door in the dark," etc., she was forced to admit that she acquired them in two different basketball games. She first received one, but feeling that it made her face look rather unbalanced, she soon gained another to match.

In her sophomore year Margery added to her list of activities. She pledged Delta Alpha Gamma, became a member of the Scienticians, and was elected vice president of the Sophomore Class.

When she attained the standing and fame of a junior, Margery went out after more honors. She served as both secretary and treasurer of Delta Alpha Gamma, was elected secretary of the A. S. C. P. S., and was elected a member of the Otah Club.

In her senior year she continued with these activities, and has added to them many others. Among these are President of Delta Alpha Gamma, vice president of the A. S. C. P. S., president of the Otah Club, member of the Student Judiciary Board, president of the Scienticians, and just recently she was elected president of the inter-sorority council and an attendant to the May Queen.

Margery has four hobbies or pastimes that she enjoys more than any others: tennis, swimming, hiking and cooking. To indulge this last she is majoring in home economics. During her varied life she has acquired three nicknames: Marge, Margie and Marna.

Margery has no definite plans for the future except that she plans to teach after graduating. She will specialize in home economics. She hopes to some day go to Columbia

THREE DAY TRIP ENJOYED BY MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Puget Sound Mens' Glee Club, under the leadership of Prof Hanscom made a short tour into Southern Washington last week-end, giving concerts at Mossyrock and Randle.

The group left last Friday morning and returned Sunday night, after a week-end that was enjoyed by everyone who made the journey. On Friday evening the program was presented at the Mossyrock Consolidated High School, in the new gymnasium, and the crowd was larger than had been expected. The program was apparently enjoyed very much by those who attended.

On Saturday night the program was presented in the school gymnasium at Randle, and the Puget Sound vocal organization found another warm welcome here. The concert that evening was enjoyed equally as much as the night before.

eye of repeating the year which he has failed.

Now the tests for the passing from Sophomore year to Junior year are as follows: A Sophomore who has maintained a standing of fourth general group or higher for the year, and with no failures incurred during the Sophomore year, will be admitted to the Junior Class. I would like to call particular attention to the fact that with our five grades of attainment, the fourth general group marks a record still somewhat below the average, and therefore not an unreasonably high standard to set for a man who is to go on to Junior year. But we make a still further concession—we say that a Sophomore who has maintained a standing of third general group, or higher, for a year, although he may have deficiencies, will be admitted to the Junior Class, and that any deficiencies which he may have either in Freshman or Sophomore year in the way of conditions will be cancelled, provided he has shown his good faith in removing all the deficiencies that it has been possible for him to remove under the rules.

A Sophomore who has made a fourth general group for the year will have all deficiencies still standing against him cancelled, provided he has removed the deficiencies, which it was possible for him to remove under the rules, and provided no failures were incurred in courses taken during the Sophomore year; that is, we do not count any failures of Freshman year against him, if his Sophomore year is clear of conditions and he has attained a fourth group standing.

Moreover, the Committee on Examinations and Standing is directed by the Faculty to consider individually all cases of Sophomores who have passed in all of their courses of the year but who have not satisfied the requirements as given above, and are in fifth group standing; also all other exceptional cases, with a view of admitting to the Junior Class any man who has given evidence of being able to do the work of Junior year satisfactorily, especially anyone who has shown improvement in his work in Sophomore year. This latter class will be admitted to Junior year on trial for a term. The Committee on Examinations and Standing will maintain very careful supervision of the Juniors who are admitted on trial in order to obtain further evidence concerning the relation of the records of these men in Sophomore year to their attainment in Junior year.

I have said repeatedly to the Board of Trustees, to the Faculty, and to the Alumni, that if the curve of progress of a Sophomore is a rising one, we should give him every consideration and promote him to the privileges of Junior year.

Moreover, I should like to emphasize the fact that our new plan of study in Junior and Senior years is something more than raising the old standards to a higher degree. It is a radically different method both of teaching and of study. It rests upon a fundamental principle that we should prepare our students by the storing and training of their minds to meet the actual conditions which they will find in their professional and business careers as soon as they leave college. We must teach them here to use their minds as the ready instrument of acquiring knowledge and of solving the various problems, which will daily confront them. We have the ambition for them all that they may become men upon whom others will lean, rather than men who will always lean upon others. If they are to take their place as men, fertile in ideas and capable of realizing them in concrete purpose and achievement, we must school them in those habits of independent thinking while here so that when they leave us they will find themselves ready, in the midst of unfamiliar situations and when brought face to face with problems which their ingenuity must seek to solve. We therefore ask our students to choose some one field of interest and endeavor where, while guided by their instructors in a general way, they are left free to gain by independent research the knowledge of a great subject. In such an endeavor, extending over two years of original investigation, we are confident there will be a quickening of their intellectual interests and at the same time a growing vigor of intellectual power. We believe that in these latter years of his college course a student's reasoning faculties should be developed, rather than his memory. He must learn to drive steadily to the heart of any subject and discern between what is essential and what is unessential; not to acquire knowledge of facts merely, but to form the habit of estimating the value and significance of facts and their bearing upon all the circumstances and conditions of life to which they may be directly or indirectly related.

We hope through the stimulus of this new method of the training of the mind to give to our country each year more useful citizens; men whose thought will contribute to the solution of the many vexed problems of the day; men whose courage, based upon their convictions of reason, deeply and firmly grounded, will inspire others with hope and strength who are not privileged to think as deeply and to see as clearly as they.

THE PUGET SOUND TRAIL

The Axe

Shaw, the best distance runner in school, has been prevailed upon to train for the two-mile run. That helps things.

Monday is the day appointed for volleyball to get under way. Mike Thornily is the manager. He has appointed assistants for each class. Their names are on the bulletin board.

Handball has had to be postponed a week on account of lack of response, but on Monday, March 1st, there is expected to be quite a turnout.

Brick Carson, it is rumored, is going to report for track. He ought to burn up the cinders with that hair of his.

Anyone who thinks that girls can't be athletic had better watch some of the fair sex in volley ball and basketball. It's quite a hair-pulling stunt.

There's no justice in interclass basketball. One person was allowed to stay in the game the other day in spite of five personals to his credit, while another was kicked from the floor for merely expostulating with the "so-called" umpire.

The Freshmen's idea of an all star choice for referee would be Jack Reese.

The Brotherhood Bank squad from Spokane which played on the Puget Sound floor last Monday mistook the Jason Lee Intermediate school for the college and were quite disappointed on not being able to get in.

Prof. Slater, star runner of Rutgers College, is coaching the long distance men now.

One organization for every 10 students is the record on the Nevada campus. A recent survey shows a total of 82 organizations. The latest registration shows 775 students.

By capturing a hectic tilt from the determined Juniors, the Sophomores finished the intramural season without the loss of a game. The Juniors had made up their minds that the second year men were to lose one contest; the result was a battle.

Tatum and Ginn divided the honors for the lower class bunch, the former caging 7 baskets, while the latter rang up 13 points. The game was fast, but was not devoid of humor. Ginn had five personal fouls to his credit.

Miller and Johnson kept in the limelight for the third year squad. The final score was 35-16.

LOGGERS TRIM PACIFIC FIVE

Close Call for Puget Sound Men When Pacific University Pushes Them 22 to 20

At Forest Grove, Oregon, the Logger cage squad took a tight tilt from the Badgers by a margin of but one basket. The game was fast, and Wilson, the tall C. P. S. forward, got going and by his long shots pulled the game out of the fire. Coach Frank's men provided hot basketball here a while ago, and there on their own floor things were certainly made interesting for the Puget Sounders.

While Pacific has not won many games, she has been a constant threat to the best of teams, as she has the ability of rising to great heights. Four of her men are freshmen, and Forest Grove ought to have a good aggregation next year. She held Whitman in one of her games to a 21-20 score, so it can be seen that she has strength.

Taking vengeance for a 17-16 defeat earlier in the season, the College of Puget Sound freshmen defeated Parkland in a closely fought game by a count of 24-18.

Kepka ran wild, dropping them in from almost any position and was largely responsible for the first year win. The game was fast with Glasso, star P. L. C. center leading the attack for the visitors, Jack Reese has been improving all season and is developing into a fast guard. Two late season finds are Woodring and Montgomery who have bolstered the squad considerably.

The freshman season has been very successful the first year squad losing only two games up to the time of the writing. Coach Eddie Swartz has been largely to blame for the yearlings' success. He is one of the smartest basketball men in college and has unselfishly devoted his time this year to the developing of a strong five.

GREAT SEASON FOR LOGGER SQUAD

Finish First Conference Year in Second Place

With the fracas against British Columbia last Saturday night the College of Puget Sound basketball team ended one of the most successful seasons of its career. The team played six conference games, losing only one of them. In the practice tilts the squad tangled with several of the city league fives, and in all of these was successful. During the Christmas holidays the men went down to Oregon and halved the trip, losing the first game of the season to the fast Multnomah Club by a tight score. This game and the second one with Willamette were the only ones dropped by the Logger squad.

All of the men on the quintet were stars in their own right, but the perfection of their teamwork was what made the Maroon and White ever a threat. Experts have declared that this year's squad would rank with the University's team and would give it a hard battle.

Frank Wilson, the Logger's floor captain, was as fine a player as has been seen on a local court. His playing thruout the year was consistent and his floor work was beautiful to watch. He will be here next year, and is one of the chief reasons for the hope that 1926-27 will see a Northwest Conference basketball pennant in the Logger's possession.

Considered by many to be the peer of any guard on the coast, Bruce Blevins was the bulwark of Puget Sound's defense and by his fine headwork won several games. Those who saw the Pacific game know that he well merited Coach McNeal's commendation as the "guiding genius of the team."

The home squad was handicapped at the start of the season by the lack of a good center, but as his injured leg grew better and his studies improved so did his ability, and the last of the schedule saw the pivot position well taken care of by lanky Shaw, who stretches toward the heavens for 6 feet 4 inches. The skies for 6 feet 4 inches.

Wes Aldrich, one of the veterans of last year, improved a hundred percent and developed an apparent mania for following the ball that made him especially valuable. Wes, too, will return.

Coming directly from the Pierce County High School League, where he was high point man, Ohne Hannus shot into a place as teammate of "Horse" in the guard position, where he electrified the fans many times by his spectacular playing.

Dale Ginn, also a letterman, was used as the shock troop, to be sent in when the opposition was difficult, and by his fight and pep instilled new life into the men. This, coupled with his expert playing, won more than one game for the Loggers. Ginn is the smallest man on the squad, but his playing made him loom up as big as a giant to the opposing fives.

Clare Guest is the last of the seven men in order of telling, but his skill ranks with the best. Handicapped by lack of great height he nevertheless was a fine center, many times outjumping his larger foes. Clare is athletic manager and will be available for next year's quintet.

Whitman with a perfect conference record took first place, while Puget Sound, which lost one game to Willamette, came next. Third position was copped by Willamette's fine five.

CANADIANS PLAY PUGET SOUND HARD

Tired Loggers Fight Hard to Down Britishers

Meeting their last opponents of the year, the Logger five, thoroughly tired out by the strenuous Oregon trip, took a rather slow game from the University of British Columbia, 28-21. The Loggers displayed only occasionally the speed for which they are famous, and the northern five was at all times a threat.

Twice during the contest the Vancouver five was ahead of the Maroon players, but at those times the team displayed more than ever their fight, and pulled out of the holes. The stellar work of Wilson was much in evidence, and Ginn played fine basketball.

The northern squad uncorked the finest passing game that Coach McNeal's men have run up against. This combined with speed and shiftiness kept the home quint on the jump. No outstanding player could be picked from the Canadian five, but much credit must be given them for their teamwork.

FROSH-SOPH GAME

(Mike Thorniley)

Inability to keep off their hands and knees cost the Frosh Squad another defeat at the hands of the fast-moving Soph quintet. The Frosh, cellar champs of the Intramural circuit, resolved to go down fighting, and they were down most of the time. The final count was 25 to 14, with Ginn the Soph's big gun. Todd and Fassett led the Babes, the former ringing 7 points. He might have had more but for his apparent mania to imitate a man looking for a dime on the floor. Lewis was the defensive mainstay for the yearlings, his rotundity enabling him to remain perpendicular with more success than his mates. Red Tatum was chiefly responsible for the Frosh downfall, in more ways than one. Fassett was banished from the floor for debating with the official.

SHULER RUNS WILD

Shuler, famous football end, spelled the defeat of the Seniors in the interclass game Tuesday night. With the assistance of his teammates who fed him the ball, the unerring Gard made 21 points. With such an orgy of shooting by one man going on the fourth year men had little chance, but they fought hard and the final score was only 27-19 against them.

On the Senior squad Hart and Jenne played consistent games. Their passing was fast and their shooting was accurate. Both teams played with four men.

RULE 2. The court shall be constituted of soft dirt converted by water into muck. This is to break the fall of the shoe.

RULE 3. Rubber boots and grab hooks shall be at all times available to recover lost shoes.

RULE 4. The shoes shall be regulation horseshoes weighing more than 10 pounds or less than 3 ounces. Wooden shoes are barred.

RULE 5. In throwing the player shall stand with one hind foot back of the peg or forfeit the throw.

RULE 6. Any shoe landing more than 10 feet from the stake shall not be counted.

RULE 7. Any shoe which lands and subsequently leaps, bounds, jumps, flops, slides or otherwise propagates itself towards the stake shall be counted only from the place in which it lands.

RULE 8. In case of a tie the shoe nearest to the stake shall count 1.

RULE 9. A clean ringer shall count 3. Dirty ones shall be declared null and void.

RULE 10. Bird ringers are barred. In case a player claims credit for one he should be put out of the game.

RULE 11. Any man mean enough to top an opponent's ringer should be penalized 15 points.

RULE 12. Any player who shall wilfully, maliciously and with malice aforethought, throw a shoe at the head, feet or any other part of another's anatomy shall forfeit the match.

RULE 13. Any player crabbing at the referee's decision shall forfeit the point or points in question.

RULE 14. Try to discourage not encourage players.

RULE 15. Any player using foul language or who voices disparaging remarks about an opponent shall be barred from the court for not less than three days or more than four weeks.

RULE 16. All alibis should be filed and sworn to before the game.

RULE 17. If you can't win the game on skill, try to win it with your vocabulary.

TRACKMAN INJURED

Herold Wade, star trackman for the Loggers, suffered a severe injury to his left leg, last Thursday afternoon attempting to perfect the "roll" method of high jumping. Wade has proved himself very proficient in the high jump and the pole vault. His leg was badly cut, but unless infection sets in, Herold will be able to turn out again within a short time.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

Helen Olsen

What is the Rhodes Scholarship and of what value is it? These questions are continually asked—and various answers given. It is interesting to note just what Cecil Rhodes had in mind when he provided for this scholarship.

Cecil Rhodes had a vision. He saw a great race of people who had within similar tastes and desires and on the outside somewhat the same customs of living. He saw this great people becoming more and more widely separated, not by material boundaries, but by means of chasms of misunderstanding and hatred. Conditions in the twentieth century have proven that Mr. Rhodes interpreted correctly the trend of the times for we remember that in the years just gone by and in fact in those that are still with us, that the countries of the Germanic race have hated each other with deadly hatred and have even tried to exterminate each other entirely.

To Cecil Rhodes there came the burning desire to do all in his power to invite those nations in sympathy and friendliness, to bring them to see that when one suffered all the others did also. He believed that if each could only get the viewpoint of the other that it would cease to be suspicious of that nation. He founded scholarships whereby young men from the United States, Germany, England, South Africa and New Zealand who were deemed the most worthy could be sent to Oxford not only to get more education from books but to view life at a different angle from that in their own country.

These young men must qualify morally, intellectually and physically for the honor of the scholarship. They must be greatly interested in outdoor activities, be the very finest scholars and have position and characters. The amount they receive is twelve hundred a year, and ample opportunity is given them to travel extensively in Europe.

The Rhodes Scholarships were evidently not enough to bind the English speaking nations to each other and to Germany.

Nevertheless they certainly are one of the agencies that can bring about peace between them.

The sad part of the whole situation is that the Americans have become suspicious of Mr. Rhodes' real intentions and fear that his scholarships were given to make the United States English.

The Rhodes scholar must surely return a better citizen than when he left. He will have learned not only the English view of world problems but that of all the other European nations as well. He will have viewed the World Court and the League of Nations not only as an American but as a citizen of the world. Rudyard Kipling once said something to the effect that the Rhodes scholar learns that he has two sides to his head, the one which he developed for his own country and another which could be used for the rest of the world.

A NATIONAL FRATERNITY

As a man cannot live profitably to himself alone, neither can a college. There must be some means of contact with the social structure, some bond that ties the individual and the individual school with others of similar kind. It is for this reason that man identifies himself with his fellow beings; it is for the same reason that a college acknowledges fellowship with its sister institutions. And the college does it by means of organizations which with us has become known as National Fraternities.

The College of Puget Sound, after a number of years of unsatisfactory standing in the debating field, gained membership in 1921 in a National Fraternity of Debate, Pi Kappa Delta. It took considerable effort to obtain the chapter which is known in the organization as the Washington Alpha. In the past five years the influence of that membership has been felt in other colleges and universities with the result that debates of a valuable type have been arranged to the advantage of the College of Puget Sound.

able type have been arranged to the advantage of the College of Puget Sound.

The College of Puget Sound has only one National Fraternity that has to do with intercollegiate activities. It is the only bond which ties the college to similar institutions situated in all parts of the United States, and with which an actual contact can be made. Surely the college cannot do without such an organization. Whether or not it will be retained is dependent upon the viewpoint taken by the present student body. The organization does not live for itself, it lives for the school in which it operates. If it must operate in the narrow confines in which it is now held it will die. With its passing will go the bond which has linked the college for five years with over a hundred schools.—H. N.

COME ON LOGGERS! OUT FOR TRACK

Are Loggers quitters? We hope not, they never have been and we expect that they never will be. But . . . just now Coach Seward has grave doubts as to whether or not we will have a track team ready for British Columbia when they come down in three weeks. Except for a few, the men are not turning out regularly.

We have in the college the material for as fine a team as any small college in the country but the material has not come out to make itself available for use. Experience is not necessary. Merely the desire to do your "darnedest" for the old school is all that is asked. Surely we are good enough sports to come out and try.

Furthermore on the last of May, down at Salem, Oregon, The College of Puget Sound will have a chance to win the Northwest Conference track and field title. If that means anything to you—come out and help.—M. F.

From Other College Campuses - - - -

Professors at the University of Washington believe that grades are a necessary evil. For the present factory system of education they are necessary, however. They contend that the Oxford method of passing and failing would not be practical because of the lack of seriousness in the scholastic work of the average student.

At the present time an epidemic of mumps has gripped the Whitman campus. Over fifty cases have been reported and all social functions have been cancelled by the faculty.

The faculty committee on conduct has handed a request to the President of the Interfraternity council at Linfield requesting that fraternities and sororities do away with all the "rough stuff" and the public part of the initiations.

The annual educational exposition at O. A. C. opened last Friday. All the buildings on the campus were open to the public and in each was an exhibit of the work of a department. The main attraction of the evening was the horse show held in the armory. Riding, driving and polo contests were scheduled for the evening.

At Stanford University a student must demonstrate that he can swim 220 yards on the surface and 40 yards under water and dive for a weight before he is permitted to have a canoe on the lake.

The enrollment of students in American colleges for the year 1925-26 has increased seven per cent. In numerical rank California stands first with 16,294 and Columbia second with 11,727.

The Permanence of Tacoma

WATCH TACOMA grow from year to year and you will be impressed with its permanence.

The onward sweep of the years brings changes, of course; improvements come and, in turn, give place to others. Yet, that spirit, that personality which is Tacoma, lives on.

In a measure it is the same quality in the Trust Department of the Bank of California, National Association, here in Tacoma, that recommends it to those who require trust service.

You who read this message know that in the course of time you will pass on, that affairs important to those near and dear to you which now you personally manage and control, must be left in other hands.

Permanence is the prime quality you will desire of your trustee.

The past record and the present strength of this bank give you assurance that it will be sufficiently permanent to complete the administration of the most complicated and protracted trusts that could possibly be committed to it.

A brief chat with Mr. Robbins or Mr. Fisher will be of service to you. Won't you come in soon?
